Reading I

Ex 12:1-8, 11-14

The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, "This month shall stand at the head of your calendar; you shall reckon it the first month of the year. Tell the whole community of Israel: On the tenth of this month every one of your families must procure for itself a lamb, one apiece for each household.

If a family is too small for a whole lamb, it shall join the nearest household in procuring one and shall share in the lamb in proportion to the number of persons who partake of it. The lamb must be a year-old male and without blemish. You may take it from either the sheep or the goats. You shall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month, and then, with the whole assembly of Israel present, it shall be slaughtered during the evening twilight. They shall take some of its blood and apply it to the two doorposts and the lintel of every house in which they partake of the lamb. That same night they shall eat its roasted flesh with unleavened bread and bitter herbs. "This is how you are to eat it: with your loins girt, sandals on your feet and your staff in hand, you shall eat like those who are in flight. It is the Passover of the LORD. For on this same night I will go through Egypt, striking down every firstborn of the land, both man and beast, and executing judgment on all the gods of Egypt—

I, the LORD! But the blood will mark the houses where you are. Seeing the blood, I will pass over you; thus, when I strike the land of Egypt, no destructive blow will come upon you. "This day shall be a memorial feast for you, which all your generations shall celebrate with pilgrimage to the LORD, as a perpetual institution."

Responsorial Psalm

116:12-13, 15-16bc, 17-18

R. (cf. 1 Cor 10:16) Our blessing-cup is a communion with the Blood of Christ.

How shall I make a return to the LORD for all the good he has done for me? The cup of salvation I will take up, and I will call upon the name of the Lord.

R. Our blessing-cup is a communion with the Blood of Christ.

Precious in the eyes of the LORD is the death of his faithful ones. I am your servant, the son of your handmaid; you have loosed my bonds.

R. Our blessing-cup is a communion with the Blood of Christ.

To you will I offer sacrifice of thanksgiving, and I will call upon the name of the LORD. My vows to the LORD I will pay in the presence of all his people.

R. Our blessing-cup is a communion with the Blood of Christ.

Reading II
1 Cor 11:23-26

Brothers and sisters: I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus, on the night he was handed over, took bread, and, after he had given thanks, broke it and said, "This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes.

Versé Before the Gospel
Jn 13:34

I give you a new commandment, says the Lord: love one another as I have loved you.

Gospel
Jn 13:1-15

Before the feast of Passover, Jesus knew that his hour had come to pass from this world to the Father. He loved his own in the world and he loved them to the end. The devil had already induced Judas, son of Simon the Iscariot, to hand him over. So, during supper, fully aware that the Father had put everything into his power and that he had come from God and was returning to God, he rose from supper and took off his outer garments.

He took a towel and tied it around his waist. Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and dry them with the towel around his waist. He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Master, are you going to wash my feet?" Jesus answered and said to him, "What I am doing, you do not understand now, but you will understand later." Peter said to him, "You will never wash my feet." Jesus answered him, "Unless I wash you, you will have no inheritance with me." Simon Peter said to him, "Master, then not only my feet, but my hands and head as well." Jesus said to him, "Whoever has bathed has no need except to have his feet washed, for he is clean all over; so you are clean, but not all." For he knew who would betray him; for this reason, he said, "Not all of you are clean." So when he had washed their feet and put his garments back on and reclined at table again, he said to them, "Do you realize what I have done for you? You call me 'teacher' and 'master,' and rightly so, for indeed I am. If I, therefore, the master and teacher, have washed your feet, you ought to wash one another's feet. I have given you a model to follow, so that as I have done for you, you should also do."

Gospel Reflection

Dear Brothers and sisters in Jesus Christ, As we gather on this Holy Thursday, our central theme is love. We celebrate God's infinite love for us perfectly revealed in His Son Jesus Christ, who on the night before He died and because of His love for us, gave us three precious gifts: the Holy Eucharist, the Priesthood, and an example/model to follow. We celebrate tonight the Institution of the Eucharist. As our Catechism states: "In the Most Blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist, the body and blood, together with the soul and divinity, of our Lord Jesus Christ and, therefore, the whole Christ is truly, really and substantially contained" (1374). We know that the Lord gives us this precious gift not because we are perfect or without sin; not because we merit or deserve it; but because we are loved. Pray that in our lives and throughout our diocese, the Eucharist is always firmly believed, devoutly celebrated and intensely lived. Tonight, we also celebrate the Institution of the Priesthood, through which the gift of the Holy Eucharist is perpetuated. At the Chrism Mass this morning, the Church invited my brother priests to renew their Ordination promises. The Liturgy also calls for the bishop to ask the People of God to pray for their priests. I renew that request this evening. Please pray, dear friends, for the wonderful priests serving in our diocese. In addition to them being men of holiness and integrity, pray that they will be known especially for the way they love in imitation of Jesus: in other words: sacrificially and unceasingly. Within this Mass, we also commemorate the example of Jesus, the One who teaches us how to love. The Gospel of John proclaimed this evening is unique in that it does not include the familiar words of the Institution of the Eucharist. Instead, the evangelist highlights the reality that, even though he knew He was Lord of all, Jesus took off His cloak and bowed in humble service and, thus, gave us an example to follow. Out of love, we are to wash the feet of one another. We do so when we put the needs of others before our own. We do so when seek not to ascend, but to descend in service of others, especially the poor, the sick, the brokenhearted, the lonely and all those calling out for our help. We do so when we forgive, from our hearts, all those who have hurt or offended us. On this sacred and solemn evening, we celebrate God's infinite love for us perfectly revealed in His Son Jesus, the One whose Body and Blood we receive, the One who washed the feet of His disciples and said to us: "What I have just done for you was to give you a model to follow, so that as I have done for you, you should also do." May our love for God and one another be reflected in our faithfulness to that call at this sacred time and all the days of our lives.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit- Amen
