The Challenge and Promise of Change

By Susan K. Rowland

Researchers report that the more we welcome change into our lives, the healthier our brains remain and the younger we feel. That's no surprise. Enthusiasm about new things is a characteristic of the young and the young-at-heart. We're encouraged to try a new hobby, learn a language, take a class, travel—anything to keep those brain cells active. New activities challenge us, keeping us alert and lively.

How do you feel about change? Do you resist, especially when change involves old and dear rituals? Sometimes we love change, sometimes not. But whether it's welcomed and expected or sudden and shocking, change is a reality of life. It's one thing we can count on.

Different reactions to change are natural. Young people are often curious and open to new challenges. It helps for them to be enamored of change, for they're moving through the biggest changes of their lives. But later in life, many people are attracted to stability.

Many of the changes we experience as we age are unwelcome. We think: Where did those wrinkles come from? Why don't I have the energy I used to have? Why do I have health problems? What is my purpose in life now that my kids are grown and I'm retired? It's no wonder we'd like to stop the clock.

God and Change
In Rediscover Catholicism, Matthew Kelly writes: "Change is one of the laws of the natural universe. Nature teaches us that everything in this world is constantly changing. Everything God created is constantly in the process of either growing or dying!" Still, Kelly writes, certain things never change: "Truth does not change; the supernatural realities of faith, hope, and love do not change; and God does not change."

Change is essential. Our physical bodies are in a constant state of repair and renewal. Our minds need to be challenged to stay healthy. And our spiritual journeys are characterized by conversion and growth. Change is important, but too much change can result in chaos. We won't grow properly or deepen our commitments if we rush from one thing to another. So God has built into us both a desire for change and a desire for stability and regularity. Thus our lives swing between change and sameness. Nature gives us distinct seasons. Each in its turn feels new and refreshing, yet each season is the same year after year.

In our Church year, we move from Advent to Christmas to Lent to Easter, fast to feast, over and over. Yet each season feels new again every year. The rhythm of life is God's way of helping us embrace both the necessary changes in our lives and the seasons of sameness.

Conversion: The Most Essential Change

The Catechism of the Catholic Church says the essence of the Christian life is conversion, which is a radical reorientation of our whole lives. The biggest change demanded of us is turning from evil and toward God. "The human heart is heavy and hardened. God must give man a new heart" (CCC 1432).

This radical, interior conversion is necessary for every person. Jesus warns us, "Whoever does not accept the kingdom of God like a child will not enter it" (Luke 18:17). We must change in order to grow into spiritual maturity. That's the main task of this earthly life. The need for growth and change doesn't diminish, no matter how old we get. We never "arrive" in this life. God insists that we keep moving forward—toward God.+

Lord, you love me and answer all my needs. Help me to be less self-focused in life and more attentive to the needs of others.

—From Hopeful Meditations for Every Day of Easter Through Pentecost, Rev. Warren J. Savage and Mary Ann McSweeney

For the Repose of the Souls of Gerald Vrazel and Cynthia Shaw Let Us Pray to the Lord

O God, the bestower of forgiveness and the lover of human salvation, we beseech Thee, of Thy tender love, to grant that the brethren of our congregation, with their relatives and benefactors, who have passed out of this life, may, by the intercession of Blessed Mary, ever Virgin, and all thy saints, come to the fellowship of eternal bliss.
Through Christ our Lord.

Amen
