

Father of Life and Love, we thank you today that you have called us to share in the life of the one human family. We thank you for all our brothers and sisters, and ask You to deepen the bonds of love among us.

We thank you especially for our youngest and smallest brothers and sisters, those in the womb. Today, Oh Lord, we remember them, while so many choose to ignore and forget them. We remember those who are living, and commend them to Your protection. We remember those who have died and we commend them to Your mercy.

We pray, Father, that we who are the living Church, may be witnesses to the dignity of life. Give us the grace to confront the evil of abortion and eliminate it. May we see the day when all people will remember abortion only as a thing of the past, and may praise You forever for the victory of life. We ask this through Christ Our Lord.

Amen

Healed by Jesus

By Mary Katharine Deeley

When my daughter was seven, she cut her thumb badly while trying to make a fruit salad. When she cried out for me, I quickly dressed her younger sister and we went to the hospital for stitches. She was in pain and crying when the doctor injected the anesthetic into the hand to numb the pain. With a firm, but quiet voice he looked at her and said, "Katy, does it still hurt?" She stopped all at once and said with a voice of wonder, "No." He proceeded to stitch up the thumb and congratulated her on being brave. She thanked him and then talked about him for the rest of the day.

I still remember the surprised look when she finally realized her thumb no longer hurt. She didn't know that the anesthetic had taken effect because she expected to still be in pain.

The ten lepers who met Jesus knew they couldn't approach anyone and they had undoubtedly called out to others to help them. When Jesus told them to show themselves to the priests, they went their way not expecting to be cured and still deep in their isolation. Some inner voice made one leper suddenly aware that he had been made clean. He stopped, full of wonder. The priest would still have to inspect him before he could return to his community, but his desire to look at Jesus one more time and give thanks for his mercy had to come first. We don't know what made him so mindful of his healing, but his response inspires us. How has Jesus touched and healed you? How will you thank him, and who will you tell? +

Sunday Readings

2 Kings 5:14-17

[Naaman's] flesh became again like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

2 Timothy 2:8-13

If we are unfaithful he remains faithful, for he cannot deny himself.

Luke 17:11-19

[Jesus said,] "Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?...Stand up and go; your faith has saved you."

We don't know what made the leper so mindful of his healing, but his response inspires us.

A Word from Pope Francis

Often it is better simply to slow down, to put aside our eagerness in order to see and listen to others, to stop rushing from one thing to another and to remain with someone who has faltered along the way.

—The Joy of the Gospel (Evangelii Gaudium), November 24, 2013

REFLECTION QUESTIONS

- Jesus healed foreigners and his Chosen People alike. Do we also show compassion to those unlike us?
- When was the last time you were healed through the sacrament of penance?

Peace: Possibility or Pipe Dream?

By Jim and Susan Vogt

"Peace be with you," we say glibly each week at Mass. As with many memorized responses, it can become a stale phrase that doesn't connect to our everyday lives. Consider the following:

- "My coworker's whining drives me crazy. She's always complaining, criticizing my work or making snide remarks."
- "If you don't stop playing that video game, I'm throwing it out and canceling your cell phone plan. It's like you're addicted."
- "Yes, we need a new jail, but not in my back yard! I pay good money to live in a safe neighborhood. Put it in the inner city where it belongs."

deal with people who annoy, offend, and hurt us. The goal, of course, is to become more peaceable persons, families, and communities, but it's not as easy as just saying at Mass, "Peace be with you."

To live the words of the Mass, "Go in peace to love and serve the Lord," we must be willing to learn peacemaking skills. Some come by these naturally—their families modeled healthy conflict resolution or they're naturally easygoing. For the rest of us, it's a struggle to balance our wants against the common good, let go of the need to have our way, and learn some practical skills.

Five "Cs" of Conflict Resolution

Here are some strategies for resolving conflicts nonviolently:

1. Communicate: Instead of attacking with a "you" statement ("You make me so angry when you forget to call"), first identify your own feelings and express them in an "I" statement ("I feel frustrated when you don't call to tell me you'll be late").

2. Concede: There are occasions when a mature adult says, "This seems more important to you than to me. I'm willing to let you have your way." Consider that conceding might save both parties stress and heartache.

3. Compromise: The most common skill for conflict resolution involves finding a solution between two positions: "I'll let you watch your TV program today if I can choose tomorrow."

4. Chance: Sometimes nobody wants to budge in a dispute. If the disagreement is between children or the decision isn't grave, try settling it by chance—toss a coin or pick a number.

5. Create: A helpful strategy is seeking a "win-win" solution. This takes creativity as all parties let go of their original desires and brainstorm alternatives that meet everyone's needs. Instead of fighting over the TV, play basketball.

The price of peace is neither cheap nor quick. It takes courage and selflessness to move beyond our own will to seek the common good. It often means giving up personal power and control to consider how we need to change. Sometimes the peacemaker may be taken advantage of or hurt, but what is the alternative—hurting others?

Think of one person you can't stand. Now, think of one positive or redeeming trait of that person. If you can't do it, then how can we expect communities and countries to move past anger to love? +

Lord, I am grateful for your healing presence. Help me recognize your presence in my life with praise and gratitude.

—From Grateful Meditations for Every Day in Ordinary Time, Rev. Warren J. Savage and Mary Ann McSweeney

Paid with a Glass of Milk

A young Howard Kelly was poor and hungry, knocking on doors for a bit of charity. At the last door, discouraged by so little response that day, he merely asked for a glass of water from the young girl who opened the door. Realizing he was more than thirsty, she brought him a glass of milk. He asked what he owed her and she responded, "Nothing. Mother has taught us never to accept pay for a kindness." Little Howard responded simply: "Then I thank you from my heart." Years later this same little girl was a seriously ill, middle-aged woman. She was transferred to the city hospital and treated successfully by a specialist. After months of treatment and medication, she overcame the disease and returned home. When the bill arrived, she feared to open it because, although not totally poor, she was of humble means. Peering inside the envelope, she found this message on the bill: "Paid in full with one glass of milk. Dr. Howard Kelly."

Our acts of kindness never go unpaid, and a little love goes a long way toward transforming the world. True gratitude is never just a word on the lips but a lifestyle and an attitude of a noble heart. A grateful-hearted person knows that all we receive is a gift, and we should return those gifts to those around us. Our biggest benefactor is God himself, who has given us life, love, and eternal salvation. May our Lord be the first one to whom we return our gratitude!

For Reflection

How often do I say thank you each day?
Is it enough?

When I can't say thank you in words, do I express it with a smile, gesture, or hidden act of kindness?

*[Jesus said,] "Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?...
Stand up and go; your faith has saved you."*
